Example files instructions

Example file(s) for this module have been placed within this ZIP archive. You should extract the file(s) from the zip archive and place them in a convenient location on your local hard drive.

The follow-along demonstration in the video uses a copy of these* files which have been placed in the following folder location:

📁   `C:\Downloaded Example Files`

> * Please ensure that only the example files for this module are available for you to follow along with video demonstrations and conduct exercises. Files from other modules are not suitable for this module.